OTTOMAN FORCES RETRIEVE LOSSES

Nazim Pasha's Army Recaptures Bunarhissar and Defeats Bulgarians

TURKS ORDERED TO ADVANCE

Communication to Constantinople States That Bulgarians Are Hemmed In on All Sides—Greeks Sink Battleship

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The Turkish army has recaptured the town of Bunarhissar from the Bulgarians and also has defeated the Bulgarians in the vicinity of Visa, according to dispatches received here this afternoon from Nazim Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces.

Nazim's dispatches declare the Bulgarian losses were heavy and that all the Turkish army corps have now been ordered to advance.

The dispatch announcing the recapture of Bunarhissar was sent by Nazim Pasha at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon. It said also that the Bulgarian column had been cut off. A telegram from Nazim sent at 2 o'clock this afternoon, was as follows:

"Our right wing has been advancing since yesterday from Kisa. Mahmoud Mukhtar Pasha's army has vanquished the Bulgarian column and now all of our army corps have been ordered to advance."

A communication sent by Nazim Pasha to the Sultan during the morning stated that the Bulgarian forces gradually were being hemmed in on four sides. It especially commended the conduct of his troops at Visa who were said to be fighting with splendid devotion and courage.

A still earlier dispatch from the Turkish commander-in-chief dated Thursday said the Bulgarians had sustained heavy losses in Wednesday's fighting at Bunarhissar and that a quantity of artillery pieces, rifles, ammunition and other equipment had been captured by the Turks.

Bunarhassar is about 40 miles southeast of Kirk Killisseh.

Whatever the issue of the terrible battle now raging on the western slopes of the Istrandia mountains in Thrace, it undoubtedly will be reckoned among the world's great struggles. Almost uninterruptedly for four days and three nights the battle has proceeded, the moon having afforded sufficient light at night for them to continue their fierce onslaughts against each other. Turks and Bulgars are locked in a grapple which will be broken only by the decisive defeat of one or the other. The complete dearth of news from the front Wednesday and Thursday had given rise to a feeling of despondency and sensational rumors of Turkish reverses gained currency. Today official reports proved these rumors to be unfounded.

Some idea of the desperate nature of the fighting is gathered from the fact that more than 5,000 wounded soldiers arrived in Constantinople tonight from the front. Fortunately a majority of the bullets drilled clean holes in their victims and these will heal rapidly.

A batch of deserters arrived with the wounded. Indignation and surprise were expressed here today over the fact that a Greek torpedo boat had succeeded in entering the Gulf of Saloniki last night, despite the mines and heavily-armed forts and blown up the Turkish battleship Feth-I-Bulend. The commandant of the forts will be called to account for permitting this Greek incursion.

The movement of troops to the front continues.

As a result of a meeting Thursday of the heads of diplomatic missions to consider the situation in Constantinople, the Marquis De Pallavioni, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, today visited Noradunghian Effendi, the foreign minister, and called his attention to the necessity that adequate measures be taken to maintain order in the city.

Among the measures the government already had in mind to insure order in the capital in event of further Turkish reverses, is the dispatch of an army division to stop all fugitive soldiers between Tchataiaja and Constantinople. The city, however, at present is tranquil and orderly.

HONOR MEMORY OF JAMES S. SHERMAN

Thousands Gaze For Last Time on Face of Late Vice President.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR FUNERAL

The Services Will Begin This Afternoon at 2 O'clock and Will Be In Charge of Rev. W. M. Stryker, a Classmate

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Utica paid tribute today to the memory of the late Vice President James S. Sherman. For hours this afternoon and evening persons filed silently through the Oneida county Court House and gazed for the last time upon the face of the Vice President, whose body was lying in state in the rotunda of the building.

The body, clothed in a cut-away suit of black, reposed in a casket of solid mahogany, covered with black broad cloth with handles of antique silver. The Vice President's face bore a look of serenity, but it was overspread with a tinge of purple, the mark left by the malady that caused his death. In the right arm lay a bunch of violets, the gift of his grandchildren and in one hand was a spray of red flowers from the Vice President's gardens. The Elks' pin, the insignia of one of the few orders to which Mr. Sherman belonged, flamed from the lapel of the coat.

The casket lay upon a flag-draped catafalque, over which was suspended a canopy of flags. A floral piece of white lilies had been laid upon the casket while palms, ferns and flowers were arranged in profusion on either side. The exterior of the building was in mourning dress with festoons of flags on backgrounds of black and purple.

The body lay in state from 3 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock tonight and during that period it was estimated that more than 25,000 people passed through the building.

The procession which earlier in the day escorted the casket from the Sherman home to the Court House was imposing.

Lining the street as the body was borne from the house were hundreds of Mr. Sherman's friends, neighbors and business associates. As the bearers moved down the winding walk several gray-haired veterans, lined up on either side, saluted as it passed. They were members of Bacon Post No. 53, Grand Army of the Republic, and Mr. Sherman was the first associate member. The little band of veterans then took their place at the head of the procession.

Two hundred Elks, members of the citizens' committee, the Chamber of Commerce, Boosters' Club, Oneida County Bar Association, directors of several banks and scores of citizens, friends and neighbors of the Vice President were among those who followed the body to the Court House.

As the cortege moved through the business section the bells of the city hall and various churches were tolled. All street traffic halted for the procession. It had been raining at intervals in the day and the leaden skies gave promise of a storm.

The crowds waiting at the Court House, were kept in check by delegations of National Guardsmen, who later acted as a guard of honor while the body was lying in state. The bearers had scarcely disappeared within the building when the storm broke.

Many of those who had gathered preferred a drenching, however, to losing their places in line and there was no break in the two lines that soon began to file through the building.

All classes of citizens were there to pay their tribute of respect. While the storm was at its height the electric lights in the building went out and those who happened to be passing through the rotunda for the next few minutes could discern only a showdy form as they peered through the semi-darkness at the face of the dead. It was not long before the lights were restored.

The lines continued unbroken up to 9 o'clock, when the casket was closed, and under an escort of citizens, returned to the Sherman home.

President Taft is scheduled to arrive in Utica shortly after 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and probably will call at the Sherman home before the funeral. The private services at the house for the family will be conducted by Dr. Holden, of the Dutch Reformed Church, of which Mr. Sherman was for many years the treasurer and active supporter.

The services at the First Presbyterian Church will begin at 2 o'clock and will be in charge of the Rev. M. W. Stryker, president of Hamilton College. Mr. Sherman and Dr. Stryker were classmates at Hamilton College.

Dr. Stryker will be assisted by Dr. Holden. The services will open with a song and after the reading of the Scriptures by Dr. Holden, Dr. Stryker will deliver a brief eulogy. Dr. Holden will pronounce the benediction.

President Taft will occupy the first pew to the left center aisle. With him will be his military aides and other members of his party.

The block of pews back of the one for the President will be held for Senators, Congressmen, cabinet officers and members of the Utica organizations that will be represented at the funeral. On the right side of the center aisle the pews from the front to the rear of the church will be reserved for members of the Sherman family and their immediate friends.

The casket will be placed on a dais in front of the pulpit which will be planked by members of the Conkling Unconditionals, a political club of Utica.

SENATE A CITADEL OF THE INTERESTS

People Have Not Had Possession for Generation, Declares Wilson.

EXPLAINS VIEWS ON TRUSTS

Nominee Proposes to Have Special Favors Cut Out of Tariff Without Disturbing Healthy Fibre of Business.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Governor Woodrow Wilson in his speeches here tonight directed an attack on the United States Senate as a "citadel of private interests," declaring the people had not had possession of that body for a generation.

The speaker said confusion and incessant contest would result for the next four years with a postponement of legislation unless both houses of Congress, as well as the Presidency, were "Democratic through and through." He also explained his views on the regulation of competition at greater length and with more detail than he had done before in the campaign.

Holding that the two chief issues of the campaign are the tariff and the trusts, he reiterated that without disturbing "the healthy fibre of American business," he proposed to have "special favors cut out of the tariff". He announced that he intended to fight for the rest of his life to destroy private monopoly.

The Governor declared that monopoly could be prevented by making illegal, unfair methods of competition. He outlined among these the system of under-selling in a local market and the discrimination by monopolies which control raw materials against firms which would not enter their combinations.

The receptions accorded the Governor at both meetings were of prolonged enthusiasm. One demonstration lasted 20 minutes. The Governor said he was glad to be received "in an admittedly Republican stronghold."

"Do you realize that the people of the United States haven't had control of the Senate of the United States in our time?" asked the Governor. "No mandate of the people has ever gotten through that body. You have got to capture the citadel of private interests—that is, the United States Senate. The Senate tainted by the purchase of seats, to the shame of the people of the country, tainted by the point of view of its lifelong members, has not in our time responded to the impulses of the people of the United States."

SHOT AT HIS CLUB

Wm. Harkins, of Asheville, Fatally Wounded by C. B. Boyd

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 1.—William Harkins, United States revenue collector, was shot and fatally wounded at 1 o'clock this morning by C. B. Boyd, a fellow club member at a local club.

William W. Harkins, 33 years old, a deputy revenue collector for this district with headquarters in this city, was shot and fatally wounded by C. B. Boyd, 24, a Southern Railway brakeman, at a local club at 1 o'clock this morning. Doctors attending the wounded man state that he cannot live more than 24 hours, the bullet having passed through the left temple into the skull. It is stated that the men became involved in a quarrel over a game of cards which later led to blows. Boyd fired one shot from an automatic pistol. After being taken to the police station he refused to make any statement, as did other members of the club who witnessed the shooting.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS AT SECOND RALLY

DEMONSTRATION FOR STRAUS

He Calls on Progressives to Forego Their Enthusiasm When Teddy Appears — "Cheer Heard Around the World"

New York, Nov. 1.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt for the second time in three days, tonight addressed an audience of thousands in Madison Square Garden. There had preceded him to the Garden through the medium of Comptroller William A. Prendergast, chairman of the meeting, a request that no efforts be made by the crowd to cheer him beyond the limit of time accorded last night in the same hall to Governor Wilson.

"When Col. Roosevelt raises his left hand," said Mr. Prendergast, "he asks you to let him proceed with his speech, because he desires a record next Tuesday in the voting, rather than a record tonight in the duration of the cheers."

Oscar S. Straus, candidate for Governor and other State speakers, held the stage until 9:40, when the colonel arrived. He was wildly cheered as he made his way to the front of the platform and waved a welcome to all parts of the hall.

It was 15 minutes before his uplifted hand brought the cheering to a momentary end. After it had gone on for 20 minutes he raised his arm. After it had gone on for 28 minutes he again raised his arm, but the crowd renewed its cheers and he dropped the arm to his side. Again he made the gesture, but an enthusiast unfurled a giant bandana from the roof of the Garden and then the crowd was again in an uproar. The colonel, declaring he spoke in behalf of the Progressive State and local tickets of New York, talked for over an hour, his voice strong and his strength apparently unimpaired by the effort. Success in the State, he declared, was essential to Progressive success throughout the Nation.

Col. Roosevelt began his speech by saying he wished to make a special appeal on behalf of the Progressive State and local tickets.

"Friends, I wish you to remember always that this is no ephemeral or temporary movement," he continued. "We have gone into this movement making our appeal to all good citizens without regard to their past party affiliations and with the resolute intention to make this a permanent movement and a movement which shall deal not merely with National, but with State and local affairs.

"For, mind you friends, the evils that affect your people are evils that cannot be dealt with by any one branch of the gomernment alone. We can grapple with them only when the National and State and municipal governments alike are in the hands of men whose honesty is above proof, and who know and understand and sympathize with the needs of the plain people of the country, of the men and women who make up the bulk of our citizens."

Digressing for a moment from his political topic, the colonel referred to the death of Vice President Sherman, saying:

"Within the last 24 hours a man

BIG PARADE IS CALLED OFF

At Request of Gov. Wilson Demonstration in New York is Cancelled Out of Respect to Sherman. Have Wilson Day.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 1.—At the request of Governor Wilson, the Democratic parade announced for tomorrow in New York City, has been abandoned out of respect to the memory of Vice President Sherman, whose funeral will be held tomorrow.

As soon as Governor Wilson arrived in Rochester late today for his two speeches here tonight he telegraphed National Chairman W. F. McCombs to cancel the parade scheduled to be held in New York tomorrow by the College Men's Wilson and Marshall Clubs. The parade was to take place at the same time that Vice President Sherman's funeral is to be held. The Governor wired as follows:

"I hope that the arrangements for the parade will be cancelled as an evidence of our deep sympathy for the family and friends of the late Vice President. I know that this will be your feeling."

Wilson Day Will be Observed.

New York, Nov. 1.—Cancellation of the parade planned for tomorrow was announced by Chairman McCombs, of the Democratic National Committee tonight. The Governor felt that it would not be fitting for him to review a political parade while the funeral of the Vice President of the United States was going on," said Mr. McCombs. "We only learned today that the funeral was to be held tomorrow afternoon. After learning this, I conferred with Governor Wilson and we agreed that the parade ought to be cancelled."

Calling off the parade does not mean, Chairman McCombs said, that the Wilson day celebrations which have been arranged to take place throughout the country will also be abandoned.

"The Wilson Day exercises will go on as planned," he announced. "These exercises have been arranged for weeks ahead and it would not be possible to have them stopped now. The parade in New York was to have been participated in by Governor Wilson himself and besides it was to have been held in Vice President Sherman's home State. It was therefore felt by the Governor and myself, as a special mark of honor and respect to the memory of the Vice President the New York parade should be abandoned."

CONFESSES SINGER MURDER

Mrs. Conway Breaks Under Third Degree and Says Her Husband Killed Pretty Baltimore Girl —Wanted Some Money

Chicago, Nov. 1.—An ordeal of more than 24 hours of questioning broke down the self-possession of Beatrice Ryall Conway and hysterical admissions made by the woman here today are said by the police to clear up the mystery of the murder here Monday night of Sophia G. Singer, the Baltimore heiress.

Since Mrs. Conway and her husband were turned over to the Chicago police yesterday in Lima, Ohio, the detectives concentrated their efforts on the woman, putting Conway through an ordeal of isolation, silence and uncertainty. This afternoon after a number of outbursts of weeping and hysteria, Mrs. Conway, begging for something to eat and a few hours of rest, consented to make a statement to the police. It was taken down by a stenographer in the presence of officers.

The statement made public by the police as the formal confession of Mrs. Conway, is in part as follows:

"Sophia invited us to come to Chicago. We took a suite of three rooms for light housekeeping. My husband and I occupied one of the bed rooms and Miss Singer and Worthen, her fiancee, occupied the other.

"We were out of money and Sophia knew this before we came to Chicago. On the night of the killing we had dinner together and Worthen went out. Sophia went out to post a letter and came back after a while with her shoes wet. She took them off and was in her stocking feet about to change them. We had quarrelled a little about the expenses which Sophia was paying. We were destitute and Sophia threatened to take Worthen and leave us stranded.

"Sophia said we weren't doing anything to get money. She said she had met a rich old man and wanted me to go out with her and to meet him and another man. Conway was furious at this. He said I did not have to make money that way. I was washing dishes at the sink. I heard a fall. I went into the bedroom and Sophia was lying there. My husband said to me, 'hurry let's get our things and get out before she gets conscious.' We did not know she was dead. 'Con' never meant to kill her."

The confession says the pair then fled from the city with $48, which they took from Miss Singer's effects and two suits of clothes belonging to W. R. Worthen, Miss Singer's fiancee. They went to Hammond, Ind., in a street car and then from place to place till they reached Lima, Ohio.

While the alleged confession was being wrung from the woman, Conway cowered in a cell, hearing the screams and pleadings of his wife, but he did not know what was going on, and was denied the privilege of speaking to any one. The police expect him to breakdawn soon and make a statement. The assertion by the woman that she is married to Conway will be verified, as, if she is his wife, she cannot testify against him.

WILSON WINNING IN WILMINGTON

People Must Respond Today If the $10,000 Fund is Raised

DEMOCRATIC RALLY TONIGHT

Congressman Godwin Will Speak at Big Meeting at Democratic Headquarters—Appeal to the Committeemen

Wilmington will win with Wilson and Wilson will win with Wilmington if each member of the Committee of One Hundred appointed, after careful selection, to raise $10,000 for the campaign fund, will get out bright and early this morning and do his duty.

With the guarantee fund carefully computed, the committee is now within less than $500 of the coveted goal and this $500 must be in hand by 6 o'clock this evening. If every committeeman will take it upon himself to raise even $5 today, success will be assured but the $5 must be raised by each individual member of the committee. If the committeeman cannot raise the $5 among his friends, the Finance Committee is about tempted to say he must pay it himself. See your chairman early today; tell him in this last emergency, to save the good name of Wilmington, you are going to do your duty and raise the $5 required of you—and do it! The chairmen of the respective committees and a few of the members of each committee have exhausted the list of their acquaintances and it is now time for some of the latent strength of these committees to assert itself. This special appeal was made by the leaders of the movement last night and as many of the members as possible were reached by telepehone, but there are still others and this general invitation is extended to them to get busy TODAY.

Final preparations were made yesterday at Wilson headquarters for the great rally there tonight at 8 o'clock. Congressman H. L. Godwin will be in the city, returning from some appointments in Brunswick county and he has been invited to join the celebration and make a brief address. The personal message from Governor Woodrow Wilson to the American voter—the last before the election—will be delivered by W. P. Stacy, Esq. This is a strong appeal to manhood and it will be delivered by Mr. Stacy in truly eloquent manner. The Democrats of Wilmington and all visiting Democrats are cordially invited to attend this rally and hear the addresses.

The appointment of Mr. Godwin was arranged through Chairman Geo. Harriss, of the County Democratic Executive Committee, and it will be a pleasure to have Mr. Godwin with the enthusiastic Wilson forces in Wilmington tonight. He will be introduced to the audience by Hon. Marsden Bellamy, Senator-elect from New Hanover and Brunswick counties and one of this city's most progressive and popular young Democrats.

If committee members will do their full duty today, the $10,000 for Wilmington will be raised and it is believed that they will rally to this last call. Wilmington has been cited from National headquarters in New York to larger cities as a fine example of what enterprising communities can and will do and it is no time for the city to fall down on a proposition like this now. Men in the work have gone to the limit in personal guarantees; others must help shoulder the burden in a small way. Will you, Mr. Public-spirited Wilmingtonian, help in this last effort? The betting odds are 4 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange on Wilson. He is certain to be elected President of the United States. Will not Wilmington obtain a "friend at court" if she shows this appreciation of her one-time citizen, Governor Woodrow Wilson?

The headquarters have been fitted up attractively and Democrats are invited to step in at any time and make themselves at home. Yesterday a large banner was strung across the front of the building, bearing excellent likenesses of Wilson and Marshall, these being from the brush of Mrs. C. M. Weathers. Other banners are on display and it is a real interesting visit—a drop around to the headquarters.

The boys are busy on the watch contest but several of them are holding something up their sleeves, according to report. Final report with the cash will have to be made by 6 o'clock this evening. The list of contributions up to last night's report, was as follows:

NAVY 7; WESTERN RESERVES 0

Game Scheduled for Today Called Off —Played Yesterday

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 1.—After having called off the football game scheduled to be played here tomorrow between the Navy and Western Reserve of Cleveland, Ohio, as a mark of respect to the memory of Vice President Sherman, the Naval Academy authorities permitted a game to be played between the two teams this afternoon.

The game was won by the Midshipmen 7 to 0. It was an "unofficial" contest and the members of the brigade were not permitted to cheer, applause being restricted to handclapping.

The only score was made in the second period, when the Navy coaches sent Captain Rhodes into the backfield. He immediately started out at line-smashing tactics and hammered his way to the Reserves' 10-yard line when he negotiated a pretty forward pass to H. Harrison, who was tackled just over the goal line. This touchdown with Brown's goal, comprised the only scoring.

FIRST BIG GAME TODAY.

Betting is 10 to 9 That Harvard Wins From Princeton.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 1.—Princeton and Harvard will measure strength, agility and football knowledge in the stadium here tomorrow. The contest will be the first big game of the year on Eastern gridirons and the first visit of the Orange and Black to Harvard in 16 years. If the Crimson should win—and the betting tonight was 10 to 9 in support of such a contingency—the victory will mark the first Harvard success over the Tigers in a quarter of a century.

The two universities resumed football relations last year and Princeton won on Osborn field by a score of 8 to 6. The score 16 years ago was 12 to 0 and the game was played on the same plot of land that will be the scene of tomorrow's struggle.

PACKY WILL QUIT.

Made a Fortune and Will Retire From Ring.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—"Packy" McFarland announced today he would retire from the prize ring after his forthcoming contest with Young Jack O'Brien in Philadelphia, next month. He said he was tired of the continual rigor of training and that the lure of the dollar had lost some of its draw.

"There are only three fights I would like to get before I quit," McFarland said. "I'd like to take on Ad. Wolgast. I'd like to meet Jack Britton, and I would like to get into a ring with Battling Nelson just to give him a whipping.

"I have made about $200,000 in the last five years and that is why I am ready to quit."

EXPECTS LIGHT SENTENCE

John Schrank Wants Roosevelt to Intercede for Him

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 1.—Believing that Theodore Roosevelt does not bear malice toward him, John Schrank, would-be slayer of the colonel, expects to escape with a light sentence.

Schrank confided these expectations to Bernard H. Gottsschalk, who occupies a cell near that of the notorious prisoner. Gottschalk is a former resident of New York.

"Theodore Roosevelt is only human, after all," Schrank said, according to Gottschalk.

"He was shot and has recovered. Not that it is all over and he has had time for reflection, his better self surely has concluded that I should be pitied and not condemned. When McKinley was shot he showed forgiveness.

"The entire case rests with Roosevelt. I know if he will come here and speak for me and adopt a broad view of the matter I will get a light sentence. His word will settle the whole matter. I should think he would come here when the case is tried."

New York, Nov. 1.—Capt. Edward VanWart, who was pilot aboard the steamboat Gen. Slocum when that vessel took fire in Hell Gate on June 15, 1904, causing more than 1,000 lives to be lost, is dead at his home in Brooklyn, aged 73 years. Capt. VanWart was at the wheel of the Clocum when the cry of "fire" was given. He turned the steamboat's nose for North Brother Island, where he beached her. He was exonerated of all blame for the disaster.

DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL ADVERTISING.

Governor Kitchin's "Fight" For Labor

Governor Kitchin "Recommended" and Brother Paul Voted Against Sixty-Hour Law.

A dodger is in circulation setting forth Governor Kitchin's claim of responsibility for the Law reducing the hours of labor from 66 to 60 per week.

This dodger declares that "in spite of strong opposition" Governor Kitchin "made the fight" for this law.

This will be news to the members of the last General Assembly.

It is true that in his message the Governor did "recommend" the shortening of the hours of labor.

But he stopped right there. He made no "fight" whatever, as any member of that General Assembly will bear witness, and as the record shows. If the passage of the law had depended on the Governor's efforts, it would have gone the way of the anti-trust law. It would be a dead one.

LET US READ THE RECORD.

Senator Ivey, of Rockingham, was the champion of this law, reducing the hours of labor from 66 to 60. He made the real fight for it in the Senate. Let no man take away the credit justly due him.

In that same Senate sat the Governor's younger brother—Paul Kitchin.

Did brother Paul help the passage of the law?

No!—he actually voted against the bill.

(See page 697 Senate Journal, 1911). And yet the Governor boasts of his "fight" and his message! He could not even carry the vote of his younger brother!

It cannot be imagined that he had influence with the other Senators. He was not fighting earnestly enough to carry his brother's vote.

The bill, by the way, passed the House by a vote of 53 to 14, and the Senate by a vote of 34 to 10.

That doesn't look like "strong opposition," as the Governor's dodger declares, does it?

The truth about the matter is that the 60 hour law was passed not because the Governor recommended it. His recommendation had about as much to do with it as his brother's opposition. It passed because the Democratic General Assembly of North Carolina recognized that it was the wise and just thing to do.

ANOTHER "FAKE."

I am advised by wire that the charge is being circulated against Senator Simmons that he advocated and still favors the bill limiting the amount for which employees of railroad companies may sue in case of injury or death. This is entirely untrue. Senator Simmons stated his position on this matter clearly and briefly in his Charlotte speech, as follows:

"I voted with their employees and against the railroads for the employers' liability act. I voted with their employees and against the railroads in opposition to the so-called workmen's compensation act, as did practically all Democrats. I voted against that bill, as did my Democratic colleagues, because it was a railroad and not a labor measure, as it pretended to be, because the compensation it allowed was ridiculously inadequate."

Simmons' Campaign Manager.

NEW ENTERPRISES CHARTERED

Six Charters Issued Yesterday by Secretary of State—Chairman Webb Talks of Progress of Campaign—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 1.—Six new enterprises for North Carolina were chartered today. The People's Ice & Cold Storage Co., Greensboro, capital $75,000, by E. C. Sykes, Howard Gordon and others.

The McCanless Real Estate Co., Salisbury, capital $30,000 authorized and $1,500 subscribed by W. A. McCanless and others.

The Person Union Tobacco Co., of Roxboro, Person county, capital $10,000 authorized and $500 subscribed by W. H. Moore and others.

The McKethan Turpentine Co., of Fayetteville, capital $100,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by J. A. McKethan, R. F. Simmons and others.

The Reidsville Coal & Ice Co., of Reidsville, capital $25,000 authorized and $3,000 subscribed by Robert Hairston and others.

State Chairman Chas. A. Webb, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, says that he is well pleased with the progress being made in the arrangements for general observance of Woodrow Wilson' Day, November 2nd, in every precinct throughout the State and that these rallies and speakings will practically close the campaign in North Carolina preparatory for the general election. Great interest is being manifested and indications are for an abundance of enthusiasm in spite of the fact that the Republican forces are so small and divided as to entirely rob the campaign in this State of any real elements of a contest. The State headquarters is experiencing a good deal of difficulty in ascertaining whether or not there has been a complete distribution of the poll books for the Senatorial primary. Yesterday there were 60-odd counties in which the poll holders had not acknowledged receipt of the poll books which it is the duty of the State headquarters to issue. They have been sent to all. Telegrams have been sent to every one of these counties insisting that either the receipt of the poll books be acknowledged at once by wire of the fact telegraphed that they have not been received. And, in that event, other poll books would be forwarded. A number of telegrams have been received since acknowledging receipt and still there are large numbers delinquent in this acknowledgment.

The steel construction work for the ten-story Commercial National Bank sky-scraper at the corner of Martin and Wilmington streets will be completed this week and the putting in of the concrete floors has reached the seventh story. Exceptionally rapid progress is being made on the building, which is being constructed by the John T. Wilson Co., of Richmond, Va. This company also has the contract for the fine quarter million dollar fire proof State house and has completed the third and fourth floors, with work in progress on the remaining first and second floors. The building is to be completed ready for the building commission to deliver it to the Legislature early in January and receive its assured very honorable discharge. The commission has done splendidly in getting a wonderfully good building for the money placed at its disposal. This is the general verdict.

STATE CLOSES CASE.

Judge Declines to Let Ettor Make Personal Statement.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 1.—Joseph J. Ettor, leader of the Lawrence textile strike last Winter, who with Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso is on trial here charged with responsibility for the murder of Anna Lopizzo, sought to make a personal statement to the court today just before opening remarks for the defense began. His request was denied, and Judge Quinn ordered counsel for the defendants to proceed. The court had perviously declined to rule on a motion to take the case from the jury, but granted to defendants' counsel a right to renew it when the testimony is concluded.

After the commonwealth had closed its case, Judge Quinn designated W. Scott Peters, attorney for Giovannitti, and J. H. Sisk, counsel for Caruso, to make the opening statements for the defense. He first directed that but one attorney should speak for all, but when Mr. Sisk explained that his client was charged as principal and the others as accessories and that he would like to present a separate statement, the court permitted him to do so. J. P. S. Mahoney, counsel for Ettor, protested, but was overruled.

When court convened after luncheon, Mr. Mahoney announced that Ettor asked the privilege of addressing the court.

"I don't care to hear from him at this time," said Judge Quinn. "Counsel will proceed."

An exception was taken to this ruling on the ground that it denied the defendant "his constitutional right to explain his desire to have his personal counsel address the jury in his behalf."

In outlining the defense of Ettor and Giovannitti, Attorney Peters said he would prove that throughout the strike the defendants counselled against violence and on several occasions actually prevented violence. He said testimony would be given that the mill owners incited trouble to discredit the strikers and that private detectives hired by the mill owners were arrested for committing depredations and afterwards released when the police learned their identity.

Both Ettor and Giovannitti, he announced, would take the stand and brand as falsehoods the testimony given against them by private detectives. Giovannitti, he added, would deny absolutely the speech attributed to him in which he was quoted as having advised the strikers to "prowl like wild animals at night, seeking the blood of the scabs."

Mr. Sisk, outlining Caruso's case, said his defense will be an alibi, his wife, a friend, and other witnesses being ready to testify that at the time of the riot Caruso was at home eating supper.

The first witness for the defense will take the stand tomorrow. Nearly 200 names are on the list of probable witnesses to be called.

THE PLAN THAT FAILED.

Republican Leaders Talk of Scheme to Unite Parties.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 1.—Two visitors in Greensboro last night were District Attorney Holton and former United States Senator Marion Butler. Incidentally both these North Carolinians and former Republicans who have in years gone by took a leading part in the State's political affairs, were returning to the State after transacting business in the Nation's capital and attempting a little political stunt. Both Mr. Holton and Mr. Butler admitted the authenticity of the report current recently that an effort was being made—rather had been made—to bring together the Roosevelt and Taft forces in the State to the end that a more solid front might be presented to the "common enemy". They both admitted that the matter had been under consideration the past week, but intimated that thus far failure had attended all efforts; that a few new leaders in the State had blocked "harmony efforts." Mr. Holton made a statement relative to the matter in the accuracy of which both former Senator Butler and Secretary Gilliam Grissom, of the Republican State Executive Committee, tacitly concurred. Mr. Holton, in the course of his remarks, said that he understood the Progressive Roosevelt people were willing for a "harmony plan" and that he found the Taft Republicans in the same humor; that the proposition was to divide the electoral ticket and that the belief obtained that thereby a general understanding and thorough agreement would be reached down through the counties and including the State ticket. Mr. Holton says that he found a very general favorable sentiment among Taft and Roosevelt adherents in favor of such a move, but that in the State "certain Roosevelt leaders" had not looked favorably upon it and that some of their friends had suggested that they feared a plan would eliminate them. Continuing he said: "This simply follows out the line of general disagreement and suspicion of each other of the Roosevelt leaders among themselves, whose relations have several times ben strained to the breaking point." Mr. Holton declared that he believed all honest opponents of the Democrats were desirous of getting together and that they would not soon forget or forgive those who had placed a stumbling block in the way of "taking advantage of the fearful division and disorganization" in the Democratic ranks. Mr. Butler was practically of the same opinion. He said he was on his way to Sampson county, where he would speak Saturday in the interest of the Republican ticket; that there was but one ticket in Sampson opposing the Democrats and that the Roosevelt men would support it as well as the Taft men. He predicted that Sampson would give between 1,500 and 1,800 Republican majority. It is intimated that during the next two and four years the Republican and Roosevelt adherents will get together against the Democrats and that the fight will be made largely on railroad legislation and alleged Democratic affiliation with the railroads and trusts and failure to eliminate railroad rate discrimination.

THE NEWBERN FAIR

More Than 30,000 Admissions During Four Days of Meet

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 1.—The first Eastern Carolina fair came to a close today, and the hundreds of visitors who were in attendance on the last day returned to their homes tonight. One of the principal events of the day was a motorcycle race over a two-mile course by Dr. Ernest Dunn and David Morris, of this city, and Archie Templeton, of Charlotte. Morris won the first prize and Templeton came second. The fair has been a complete success in every way. All who attended were well pleased with the treatment they received while here, and have highly praised the management of the fair. It is estimated that there were 30,000 admissions during the four days.

J. O. CARR TO SPEAK

Appointment at Burgaw Monday In Interest of Simmons' Candidacy

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Nov. 1.—Hon. J. O. Carr will address the voters of Pender county at the Court House in Burgaw Monday at noon in the interest of Senator Simmons' candidacy for the United States Senate. The Simmons men in Pender are very confident. It is expected that the county will cast at least 1,200 votes for the Democratic ticket and this is divided among the Senatorial candidates in about the following proposition: Simmons, 900; Kitchin, 235; Clark, 65. All are invited to hear Mr. Carr here Monday and may be assured of a splendid speech.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Secretary of War Stimson leaves New York November 13th, on a commercial liner for Panama to gather information at first hand regarding the condition of the work on the canal. He will submit a report to Congress at the approaching session for its guidance in legislating.

Youthful, Beautiful Skin Easy to Have

(From The Clubwoman.)

You may be as healthy as a bird in the air and still have a poor complexion. Changing seasons and temperatures, winds, dust and dirt, are apt to injure any skin, even though the general health be good. When these external influences spoil the complexion, the natural thing is to remove the spoil by external means. Ordinarily mercolized wax will do this. It will actually absorb the weather-beaten film-skin, a little each day. In a week or two you'll have a brand new complexion, a new skin. The exquisitely beautiful and youthful complexion thus acquired, comes so easily, without harm or discomfort, there's no reason why any woman should not adopt this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, washing it off mornings. This will not fail in any case.

To quickly remove wrinkles, signs of care and age, bathe the face occasionally in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 ounce, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. The results will surprise you.

SENATOR SIMMONS AND THE LONG AND SHORT HAUL CLAUSE.

The Clark headquarters are advertising:

"On May 13th, 1910, Mr. Simmons voted against a bill to prohibit freight discriminations, and to send the matter to the Inter-State Commerce Commission which had theretofore done nothing for our relief and which has done nothing since."

The above statement is inaccurate and misleading.

Senator Heyburn proposed an amendment to the railroad rate law substantially providing that under no circumstances should there be a less charge for a long haul than for a shorter haul. That proposition could not pass. It had only about a dozen supporters out of 92 Senators. The administration Republicans opposed any change in the law. The insurgents and Democrats were not opposed to a change, but there were many differences of opinion as to what change should be made. Mr. Simmons made a most powerful and effective speech in favor of changing the law so as to remedy the discriminations that had been practiced against the North Carolina towns. Senators LaFollette and Dixon as well as Senator Simmons were willing to take the Heyburn amendment; but as that could not be passed, Senator Dixon, after conferences, put in shape a proviso to be added to the Heyburn proposition, which probably would secure its adoption in the Senate. It provided that in certain special cases the Inter-State Commerce Commission might authorize an exception from the rigid rule; "but in no event shall the authority be granted unless the Commission is satisfied that all the rates involved are just and reasonable and not discriminatory nor unduly preferential, or prejudicial."

It was thought that with this proviso added, the Heyburn proposition could be passed; without it, not. Some of the administration Republicans, seeing that a majority would adopt the Dixon proposition, now joined with the Insurgents and Democrats; and the vote stod 50 to 12.

In order to get something substantially changing the law, Mr. Simmons voted for the substitution, but it was not a vote against the Heyburn proposition, but a vote for the substitution of another one that could be adopted. Later, Senator Heyburn offered his proposition as a substitute for the Dixon one, which had been adopted, and the record shows that LaFollette and Dixon voted for it, and that Mr. Simmons also would have voted for it, if he had been in the Senate chamber. The vote stood eight for it, and 47 against it.

The suggestion that Mr. Simmons was not favorable to any measure that was necessary to put an end to the discriminations against our North Carolina towns is without foundation.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

Who put the gin in Virginia and the corn in Corntucky?

President Taft has been sent to the foot of Prof. Wilson's class in history.

The lying is about over. Next will come the shouting and eating of crow.

There is very little probability that the G. O. P. elephant will break loose and eat the straw vote.

When a woman turns up her nose at a man he knows better than to sass her back by trying to turn up his nose.

"Put me in a bank instead of a tin can" might be good advice to print on the new money to be printed at Washington.

The clerks in the Treasury Department have been allowed $1 more per week to have their clothes pressed. No doubt they feel more like spending it for extra meal tickets.

The Canadians regard Roosevelt's candidacy as a breach of propriety and unpardonable discourtesy towards President Taft. The Bull Moose knows that. That is what he is running for.

Today is "Wilson and Marshall Day" all over the country. Wilmington will celebrate tonight with Congressman H. L. Godwin as the speaker. He will speak at the court house and it should be packed. Hear Woodrow Wilson's "message to the people."

A Pittsburg man was knocked down by a widow for asking her in public to marry him. He was fined $25 for disorderly conduct. If they do that to a Pittsburg man, what would they do to the likes of a gentleman from Podunk?

All voters are old enough to know better than to throw away their vote next Tuesday. A vote for Taft or Roosevelt will be thrown away. Neither can carry North Carolina. Let everybody vote with the winner, so it will make President Wilson partial to the Tar Heel State.

When the boys' corn clubs prove that they can make $100 clear profit per acre in growing corn, what is the value of an acre of land that can be made to do that? What is the value of the method that will accomplish this result? What is the worth of the boys who achieve that result and show us what can be done?

State Chairman Walser, of the Bull Moose party, predicts that Roosevelt will receive 90 per cent. of the Republican vote in North Carolina, and that Meares, for Governor, will not be very far behind his vote. That leaves only 10 per cent. for Taft and Settle. We don't know whether they would put up with that or not. However, we figure that only 60 per cent. of the Republicans will desert the G. O. P.

An overproduction of sheep is reported by the Western wool growers. This means plenty of mutton, but it goes through the hands of the packers before it can reach North Carolina with the high price tag on it. North Carolina ought to produce its own wool and mutton. Beautiful woolen blankets are manufactured in North Carolina, and we ought to produce the wool for our own woolen mills.

New Hanover and all her neighboring counties should poll a heavy Democratic vote next Tuesday. This is no year for scratching, for Wilson will be our next President. The bigger the vote cast for him by any county, the more it can expect from his administration. No county can afford to go Republican or Bull Moose when nothing can be expected from those parties. Vote especially for President Congressman and members of the State Senate and Legislature. In fact, vote the straight ticket.

THE FARMERS AND PRIVILEGE

High prices for farm supplies produced by protected manufacturers increase the cost of production on the farm, and most of the high prices for food are due to that source.

Our friends, the farmers, probably do not understand how it is those to whom they sell fix the prices of their products, while those who sell to the farmer fix the price on what the farmer buys. The reason of that is that the people who fix prices are independent of the farmers. If the farmers were independent of those who have to buy from him the farmers could fix the price of wheat, or cotton, or any other product. We are glad to see that the farmers are getting to be more independent, and it can be noted that those who are independent need not sell till they get good and ready to do so. We hope the day is coming when the farmers can name their own price and refuse to sell at the other fellow's price, or else refuse to buy at the other fellow's price. Things would then be evened up, and it would hurt nobody, simply because it would be nothing more nor less than the square deal. We like to see the balance tip even for everybody, and since they do not altogether tip even for the farmers we have always helped the farmer to fight his battle. Another reason why we lean towards the agricultural interest is that it is and always must be this country's greatest industry. Manufacturing has its limits but agriculture has not. The 93,000,000 people of this country and many consumers of our products in Europe have to be fed and the greater the production of food crops the better it is for all in the long run.

It is not necessary for the farmers to produce more than the world demands at a good price, for the farmer has to come out ahead in order to keep the agricultural interests in a healthy and efficiency productive condition. We want to see a constructive and scientific agriculture. We want to see the sons and daughters of every farmer and every working man educated, and we would like for them to have comfortable homes, with pianos ringing in every house in the land, if that were possible. Comforts, education and music need not keep anybody from working and producing, but that is the main reason why everybody should work and keep everlastingly at it. It is intelligence and work that gets these things for those who have them, unless they are tariff beneficiaries and have all the people working for them.

We are a little hard on tariff beneficiaries and trusts. Tariff beneficiaries fatten and prosper by the burdens laid upon the people and we strenuously spurn the idea that you can make us prosperous by taxing us for somebody else's benefit. If taxation of any kind will make this country prosperous, we would say pile on the taxation, but every man with common sense knowns that the higher the taxes are the less each individual can retain of what he produces. The average man can actually be so taxed that he despises the tax collector instead of the powers that do the taxing. These are the fellows who need the recall, and especially those trust-ridden taxing powers and the protective tariff measures that can tax the clothes off a family's backs in such an indirect way that they cannot realize what the dickens is the matter.

Tariff taxes are so concealed that a man has no idea of the amount of burden laid upon his shoulders, but we will guarantee that if this Republican government were to collect an enormous and unreasonable direct tax like that which is authorized to be laid upon us indirectly for the government and special interests, the two "privilege" parties, the sly Elephant, and the butt headed Moose, would be overwhelmed with an avalanche of votes at next Tuesday's election. That is precisely what ought to happen, but we fear many a man who does not realize to what extent he is made the victim of privilege will vote for Taft or the Bull Moose under a decidedly false impression. We have seen men with 30 cents in their pockets vote for the Republican party which has made him the victim of the trusts and monopolies which arbitrarily fix prices and thus tax the bread and meat out of the mouths of him and his family.

When men realize that fully, we hardly think any man would deliberately vote against his own interest for the benefit of the tariff barons with their millions. We fully realize it, and, therefore, we see no reason why we should not make it unanimous for Wilson next Tuesday. We resent the proposition of Republicanism and Bull Mooseism to lay tax on us for any other purpose than that of economically administering the people's government. Under Taftism and Aldrichism that government belongs to the trusts because they furnish the money to put it in power and they get back their expenditure in the privilege to exploit the people.

TAFT'S INDIVIDUAL PANIC.

Taft's personal panic is the only sign of distress on the political horizon. Since there is no necessity of preying upon the fears of the protected interests, the President has taken special pains to raise the hair of the farmers. He takes no account of the fact that the country is prosperous, and business is booming on the eve of a National election. Such a thing was never heard of before. Yet President Taft is howling calamity like a middle of the road Populist in Kansas when the price of wheat fell below the cost of production. That was under several Republican administrations and when Kansas farmers were plastered all over with mortgages. Kansas Republicans turned populist because they blamed the Republican party for low prices. However, the poor old Republican party was not to blame, for the simple fact that the price of wheat is regulated in the countries which import wheat from this country. Strange as it may seem, when it comes to farm products, the buyers fix the prices and regulate them according to the law of supply and demand.

This is tardy justice that we are doing to the disrupted Republican party, and yet its President and equally uninformed Republicans are howling calamity in anticipation of a Democratic government in the interest of the people. Right in the face of unparalleled prosperity in this country, President Taft has quit being a "judicious President," and he and some lesser Republicans are acting like they do not know any more than the Kansas Populists. If ill informed economists like the President and the lesser wheezers were to study the matter of production, keep tab of the supply, watch the causes for demand, whether they are to be great or small, and keep up with the markets both at home and abroad, they would learn something about the prices of the merchantable products of the farm.

Now that the election of Wilson is assured next Tuesday, we do not mind reminding the President and his minor prophets of calamity that it is instructive and educational to watch the gamblers in the grain pit at Chicago and on the Cotton Exchange, in New York. They do not take any note of politics, but crop producing showers, floods, droughts, insects, and plant maladies are watched carefully, and they not only keep their eyes on conditions in this country, but they critically scan the wheat and cotton growing regions of all the world. An unfavorable Spring in the South, early frosts in the western part of the cotton belt, and gulf storms and northers in Texas do more to put up the price of cotton than all the politics in the United States or Europe. Big cotton crops in the United States and in India, China, Russia and Egypt, at one and the same time, have more to do with the low price of cotton than all the Republican and Democratic Presidents from George Washington, the first Democratic President, to Woodrow Wilson, the next Democratic President.

The ability of people to buy, and pestilence, famine and war can be watched for their effect on farm products. Our friend, the President, and the lesser howlers might learn a lesson from the astonishing fact that the price of wheat has fallen in the face of a war in the Balkan countries of Europe. To economists of their stripe it would look like wheat ought to go up because of the necessity to feet the armies and because probably 2,000,000 producers have stoped work to fight, but let us tell them why wheat has declined. No we will not do that, for our old friend, Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department can do it. He has already reported enormous crops in the United States, while all the wheat growing countries of Europe and Asia have had unprecedented crops. There are sufficient grain crops to enable the world to have a war without its seriously affecting prices. A general European war, however, would tell a different tale, unless the destruction were so great as to impoverish the people to an extent that they could not buy at any price. That, of course, is the danger of long wars.

SETTLE IN A COLLISION

The Hon. Thomas Settle, Republican candidate for Governor, hankered harassingly after a joint discussion with the Hon. Locke Craig, the Democratic candidate for Governor. He was accommodated at Rutherfordton last Wednesday, and according to an account of the debate, sent by so capable and reputable a writer as the Rev. T. W. Chambliss, to the Charlotte Observer, Settle left Rutherfordton with with a punctured tire.

Settle had vauntingly pretended like the Democratic champion was afraid to measure lances with him, but since he got "et up" by the Little Giant of the Mountains, it is presumed that his inflated idea of his prowess and ability has shrunk like a gasbag with a hole cut in it. Egotism causes men like Settle to imagine that they can knock the stuffing out of the other fellow, but if it is possible for the Republican candidate's ego to ooze the least bit, his stock of it must now be worth just about 30 cents.

Those gentlemen who eat lion meat and wade into the arena with the confidence of Goliath, sooner or later butt into a David with a sling that "does the business." It should be stated in Settle's behalf, however, that the most powerful political Napoleon on earth could not put up an argument for Republicanism as it is known in North Carolina. A man with the eloquence of Cicero and Demosthenes and the cunning and craftiness of Nicolla Michiavelli and Marion Butler could not offer a reasonable apology for the Republican record in North Carolina, much less put up an argument that would appeal to a crowd of North Carolinians with healthy memories and just ordinary horse sense. Mr. Settle may as well attempt to restore confidence in his Satanic Majesty and hope to have North Carolinians accept him as a member of the Baraca class as to be going around venting hot blasts about the virtues of Republicanism as it has been gulped down in the Good Old North State in years gone by.

Neither could the eloquent Mr. Settle put up a real saving plea for the National Republican party which is the Turk of American politics. The old elephant has his sore back to the wall, and can put up no worthy plea for endorsement of his methods for permitting special interests to enrich themselves at the expense of the people. Indeed, Jesse James may as well try to come back as for the Republican party to expect to be trusted by the people. The fact is, we all know that the National Republican party cannot stand for itself, much less expect hard-sensed North Carolinians to regard the G. O. P. with the least charitable consideration. For the same reason that half the Republicans in the United States, and two-thirds of the Republicans in North Carolina, have utterly repudiated that party, North Carolinians will put the ball and chain on it next Tuesday.

The voters of North Carolina have numerous other reasons but that is enough to make Democrats and Republicans alike put in one against Taft, Settle and Privilege. Certainly no Democrat, when he sees his party a sure winner, would think of deserting the victors to share defeat with a fossilized party that has broken into two parts. The front part of the Republican party is the elephant and its hind part is the Moose. One grave will do for these decadent twins of special privilege.

A Chicago judge says 25 per cent. of the divorce suits heard in his court are caused by mothers-in-law. This shows that after marriage the diplomatic duty of a man is to take his mother joyriding early and often.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is now uncertain whether it is in the power of the concert of Europe to maintain the status quo should the armies of the allies occupy and hold important strategic positions in Macedonia. Europe may have to consent to a strengthened Balkan alliance and to the substitution of Christian for Moslem rule in the whole of Macedonia and Thrace. The present emergency could have been averted had the Powers been as anxious for the enforcement of the treaty of Berlin as they were to prevent any one of their number profiting by the dismemberment of Turkey. Now, however, that the Balkan nations are proving themselves a force to be reckoned with, Europe may have to accept a new status less to its liking.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Florida newspapers announce that E. M. Law, editor of the Bartow (Fla.) Courier-Informant, contemplates publishing a volume of reminiscences relating to the War Between the Sections. From that bare statement the full significance of the news it carries would hardly be apparent to South Carolinians. The Bartow editor, it may be explained, is Evander McIver Law, born at Darlington in this State. He is one of the three surviving major generals of the Confederate States army—the others being Gens. Lomax and Custis Lee—and is the ranking officer among the survivors, on either side, of the battles of Gettysburg and Chickamanga. Gen. Law should be able to make important contributions to our knowledge of the war scenes in which he bore a gallant and conspicuous part.—Columbia State.

NOT A PARALLEL CASE

Just a word from a disinterested citizen and taxpayer. I think Mr. Plummer and the city authorities ought to recognize that there is quite a difference between Front street, between Chesnut and Mulberry (Grace) streets and the western extension of Harnett street beyond Nutt street. Front street has been opened and used as a street and in the possession of the city, for over 1000 years—the western extension of Harnett street has never been open to public use, nor in the possession of the city, nor has the city any deed for it. On the contrary the Wilmington Compress Co., has had possession of the land for more than a third of a century, and what has been done to convert it from a swamp and mud hole to its present condition was done by the Wilmington Compress Co., at its own expense. Furthermore they have on file a letter from a former mayor of the city, refusing to open it as a street and stating that it was not a street of the city of Wilmington and, in effect, if not in so many words, that it did not belong to the city. Are the cases parallel? I believe in dealing fairly with all and liberally with the people who are doing the most for the upbuilding of our city—the Sprunts. We talk of encouraging new enterprises. The building complained of was built 30 years ago. If the city requires it to be moved let the city open Bladen street, Front street, Grace street and 14th street now "occupied" by Macomber's ditch from one end of the town to the other. Respectfully,

W. M. CUMMING.

JURY FINDS NEGLIGENCE

Conductor Bilbro Held for Superior Court to Answer Charge of Being Responcible for Negro's Death—Gives Bond.

The coroner's jury summoned to inquire into the circumstances of the death of James Campbell, colored, who lost his life under a coal car at the foot of Ann street Thursday evening, assembled in the grand jury's room at the Court House yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and after examining several witnesses rendered a verdict to the effect that the negro "came to his death by being cru by the wheels of a coal car under which he was working, the same being carelessly bumped by a train on the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line."

Capt. Chas. L. Bilbro, conductor of the "dummy" line train which killed the negro, who was arrested immediately after the accident and released on $500 bond, was re-arrested on a charge of murder when the jury filed its verdict with Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner. Capt. Bilbro was released a short time later on $2,500 bond with a Baltimore bonding and security company, as surety. While the commitment filled out by the coroner charges murder, it is not likely that the State will contend for more than manslaughter.

The jury was composed of Mr. W. H. Northrop, chairman; Messrs. C. F. Bell, W. H. Everett, L. B. Woodbury, T. A. Watson, Jr. and W. W. Hodges, secretary. The first witness was Joe Johnson, colored, who was at work under the car with Campbell at the time of the accident. He testified that he was working for Campbell and that they had just unloaded a car of coal for W. B. Thorpe & Co. They had gone under the car to screw up a bolt so as to close the bottom of the car, when the dummy engine with a string of cars bumped into the car under which they were at work. The witness said that he was dragged for about two feet and all this time he was doing his best to get out from under the car. When he got out he saw several people working to get Campbell out. Campbel scemed to be mashed in the side. The witness said that he did not hear any train coming or any bell ring. When they went under the car there was no train in sight, he testified.

B. S. Crum testified that he was at the plant of the Wilmington Lumber Co., a short distance away, and at intervals heard a noise as if cars were being coupled together. He heard that there was an accident at the foot of Ann street, but did not see it. He said that it was light enough to see an object 75 feet away.

Mr. DuBruiz Poisson, who was working at the office of W. B. Thorpe & Co., was an important witness. He said that the office is 15 or 20 feet from the spot where the accident occurred. He heard a bumping noise as if the coupling of cars. Probably 15 seconds later he heard Joe Johnson cry out: "My God, my God, pull the cars off; you have run over Jim." The train was moved slightly and Campbell was released from his position under a car wheel. The witness and the conductor took Campbell out. Mr. Poisson said that prior to the accident he heard no bell or other signal and did not notice any lights except a lantern carried by the conductor.

Elijah Faison, colored, who was at work on one side of the car, was the next witness, but nothing new developed from his testimony.

Mr. R. E. Pitt, brakeman or switchman on the train, was the last witness to testify. He said that the train coupled a car at the Wilmington Lumber Company and several other cars were coupled near there. The train was moving, he said, at the rate of about a mile an hour. The last car coupled was standing only a few feet from the coal car. When the last coupling was made the witness, who was standing on top of the rear car, signalled the engineer to stop. The train then consisted of 10 cars, said the witness, and the "slack" caused the last car to bump against the coal car, which he did not think was moved more than a few inches. The witness said that the bell on the engine was ringing constantly. The coal car, he said, was in good condition and that he had never heard before of anyone having to get under one of these cars to close it.

After deliberating a few minutes the jury returned a verdict as indicated. Deputy Sheriff J. H. Davis was given the commitment from the coroner for Capt. Bilbro, whom he found at his home. It was all too much for Mrs. Bilbro, who had been under a nervous strain ever since the accident, and she fainted. Capt Bilbro and the officer worked with her for some little time before she was in such condition that Capt. Bilbro could safely leave her. It was set forth in the papers held by the officer that Capt. Bilbro might be released on $2,500 bond. Hearing his father and the officer speaking of the amount of the bond and the possibility of giving it, a little son of Capt. Bilbro ran into another room and got a little bank in which he had been placing his pennies for some time. Returning he said, "Here, papa, take this and it will keep you out of jail."

Capt. Bilbro came with Officer Davis to the office of Justice George Harriss and a short time later bond was arranged as stated. W. A. Townes, Esq., of the legal department of the A. C. L., appeared for Capt. Bilbro, while at the inquest Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau aided the jury in getting the facts in the case.

PORTO RICO'S NEW WONDER.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barceloneta, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. COLD STORAGE PLANT HERE.

Article in Manufacturers' Record Tells of Important Enterprise.

An article in this week's Manufacturers' Record tells of the new cold storage plant being erected by the Independent Ice Co., here. The article written from the Chamber of Commerce, is as follows:

"One of Wilmington's latest and best enterprises will be the cold storage plant of the Independent Ice Co., being erected at a cost of $100,000, which will soon be ready for operation. It contains 300,000 square feet. The building is five stories high, fireproof, and is constructed of re-inforced concrete. The new plant will revolutionize cold storage conditions in this section of the country, and on account of its splendid location will be able to cater to a large territory. The plant has been equipped with the very latest machinery, and has a convenient location on the line of the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railways. Wilmington is in the center of a large and prosperous farming region, and the storage of various products secured from this territory will be made a feature. In addition to this, it will doubtless be used to great advantage by fishing companies on the lower Cape Fear river. It will supply the home market and the surrounding territory with such products that are usually in demand the year round, thus saving the expense of freight rates from storage plants in other States. The officers of the cold storage plant are the same as those of the Independent Ice Co., as follows: J. A. Springer, president; D. H. Penton, vice president; W. E. Springer, secretary and treasurer; L. H. Simmons, general manager."

THE RECORDER'S COURT

"Happy" Adams, Sign Painter, Tried For Larceny by Trick

"Happy" Adams, a sign painter, was the pricipal defendant in yesterday's session of the Recorder's court. He was tried on a charge of larceny by trick, it being alleged that he secured a $7 check by trick from Mr. J. M. Satchwell, the well-known sign painter, some weeks ago. Satchwell, it appears, wanted some beer and he asked "Happy" to get it for him. Adams said he could not buy a less quantity than a crate, costing $3, it is claimed, and that as Satchwell did not have the change he gave Adams a check for $7. The contention of the prosecution was that Adams never got the beer. The Recorder announced that he would find the defendant guilty, but would suspend judgment if he would agree to pay Satchwell back the amount of the check. Adams refused to do this and took an appeal.

The case against Mr. John Plummer, charged with obstructing the sidewalk with a display of fruits in front of his confectionery store, was continued until next Thursday. Judgment was suspended in a case against Thomas Jordan, charged with vagrancy, and Joseph Henry, for violating the driving ordinance, paid the costs. Harllee Bellamy, colored, was taxed the costs for exceeding the speed limit with an automobile. John McCormick, colored, paid $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

NEGRO BOY ASSAULTED.

Horace Jackson Knocked in the Head by Peter Slayter Yesterday.

Report was made to the police yesterday morning that Horace Jackson, a colored youth, son of Jesse Jackson, was assaulted at the Wynnewood box factory by a negro man named Pete Slater and painfully injured. According to the statement of the boy's father the lad was struck in the back of the head with a piece of scantling about four or five feet in length and three or four inches wide. A painful wound was inflicted but it is thought that it will not prove serious. A warrant was issued for Slater charging him with assault with deadly weapon.

Flagged Train With Shirt.

Tearing his shirt from his back, an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected, and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

CHILD STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Little Son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Smith Injured, But Not Seriously—Car Owned and Driven by Mr. G. T. Flynn.

Playing in the middle of the street with a number of his little friends a short distance from his home, Eugene Smith, the bright three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Smith, of No. 806 Dock street, was struck by an automobile near Ninth street intersection about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and painfully bruised, especially about the face and head. The automobile was owned and driven by Mr. G. T. Flynn.

The car was running very slowly and was under perfect control of the driver, therefore it was stopped almost instantly. The little fellow was struck squarely in the mouth and knocked to one side. Mr. Flynn jumped out of his car and picked up the lad and carried him to his home, where he was attended by Dr. John C. Wessell, who pronounced the injuries as probably not serious. The child fell asleep about half an hour after the accident and the loved ones about him took this as an indication that his condition was alarming, but they were happy to learn later that they were wrong in this.

Mrs. James L. Peck, aunt of the child, was on the street a short distance from her home, No. 804 Dock street, when informed of the accident. The news had a bad effect on her and she suffered a nervous collapse. She was taken into the nearest residence and given medical attention and later in the evening was able to be removed to her home. A message from the home at 9 o'clock was to the effect that she was much improved, but had not yet fully recovered.

Many friends of the family will hope that both the child and Mrs. Peck will soon be entirely recovered.

FRIDAY NIGHT LEAGUE.

Basketball Games at Boys' Brigade Armory Prove Exciting.

The basketball games at the Boys' Brigade last night were witnessed by a large crowd which taxed the seating capacity provided for spectators. The enthusiasm was unbounded during much of the evening and some good sport was witnessed, though some of the playing was marred by unnecessary fouling and rough play which detracted much from the pleasure of the game. However, there was much playing which aroused the spectators to great excitement.

The first game between the Cardinals and Company B resulted in another victory for Company B, the score being 28 to 10, while the game between the Eagles and Company A resulted in a victory for Company A, their first in this series. They showed marked improvement over their former playing and bid fair to make things lively in the future now that they have struck their gait. The score was 38 to 10. The game between the Y. M. C. A. Seniors and Juniors was a better game for the first half, though the Juniors were too much for their older rivals, whom they defeated by a score of 23 to 10.

NORTH CAROLINA'S PART.

Has Always Been First in Support of Common Country.

A friend sends the following from "Our Living and Our Dead," a magazine published just after the war:

"In the State election of 1860, the total vote polled was 112,586—the largest that had ever been polled. North Carolina furnished to the Confederacy 150,000 men, or quite as many soldiers as she had voters, during the four years of the war. The total number of troops furnished by all the States of the Confederacy was about 600,000, and it will be seen that North Carolina furnished one-fourth of the entire forces raised by the Confederate government during the four years of the war. At Appomattox, North Carolina surrendered twice as many muskets as did any other State, and at Greensboro more of her soldiers were among the paroled than from any of her sister States. North Carolina's losses by the casualties of the war were largely over 30,000 men."

MISS SKIPPER PASSES.

Death Yesterday Morning of Aged Lady—Funeral This Morning.

Miss Havaela Skipper died yesterday morning at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she had been for treatment for the past few weeks. Many friends will regret to learn of her passing. Miss Skipper was 70 years old. She was an aunt of Mr. Fred T. Skipper, clerk of the Recorder's court, and Mrs. Duncan McEachern. The latter was visiting in Dunn and was expected to return last night in response to a telegram announcing the death of her aunt.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from Mr. W. E. Yopp's funeral parlors, conducted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

CASE TO JURY TODAY

Arguments About Concluded at Grabow Riot Trial

Lake Charles, La., Nov. 1.—"If you doubt that the union men were prepared for trouble," said Congressman Aresene P. Pujo, in his argument for the State today, in the Grabow murder trial, "consider the 147 bullet holes in the sides of the mill offices." He also contended that all the attendant circumstances proved that the union men were the aggressors in the battle.

The case of the nine defendants, members of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers, is expected to go to the jury tomorrow afternoon. Four arguments were completed today, one by the State and three by the defense, leaving for tomorrow only the concluding argument by Judge Hunter, for the defense, and by District Attorney Moore, for the State and the charge to the jury by Judge Overton.

The arguments for the defense made by Attorneys Cline, Bell, Jackson and Hundley, contended that the evidence has shown that the union men went to Grabow to hold a peaceable meeting; that President Emerson had rebuked union men who were armed, and that corporate influence was back of the prosecution of the defendants.

Mr. Pujo, after summing up the evidence that the State had presented as to the alleged preparations for violence when the union men started for Grabow, said that the union men were not only prepared for the battle, but that they precipitated it.

Attorney Cline, for the defense, traced the movement of the union men from Deridder to Grabow, and contended that no acts prior to the battle indicated intended violence. He said that President Emerson had not only counselled peace, but had rebuked men whom he found in his party armed with guns.

Attorney Bell in his argument for the defense said that corporate influence was back of the prosecution and that the State was obliged to attempt to prove a conspiracy, because not a single one of the defendants on the simple facts of the case could be convicted.

SENATORIAL PRIMARIES.

Maj. Hale's Ideas of Who Should Vote in Primary.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 1.—Major E. J. Hale, editor of the Fayetteville Observer, in an interview this evening, expressed the belief that everybody would be satisfied and no further complaint would be heard of the ruling of the Democratic State Executive Committee, if Chairman Webb would declare at once that an affirmative vote for Wilson and Marshall, the National part of the ticket, is an indispensable condition of the right to vote in the Senatorial primary. It would appear from Chairman Webb's letter of October 30th, to Pollholder Lambert at Thomasville, that an elector who is opposed to Wilson and Marshall may vote in the Senatorial primary, provided he does not go the length of voting for Taft or Roosevelt. But from the nature of the Senatorial office, the Democratic nominee for that position should be chosen by the same electors who voted for the Democratic Presidential and Vice Presidential nominees and furthermore because the three must celebrate in matters of party principle. Major Hale cites the resolution passed by the State Committee, shortly after fusion times, which declared that the Democratic party was a National organization and the Democratic party in North Carolina a part of said organization and subject to its authority. This renders consideration for the National part of the ticket of first importance. But he says that such a rule is inherent and must necessarily exist without dependence upon the precedent action of the comittee in past years.

WHITMAN THREATENED

District Attorney Warned of Plots Against His Life

New York, Nov. 1.—District Attorney Whitman was warned again today of an alleged plot against his life and was told that with the conclusion of the Becker trial the "lid" was being lifted gradually in the tenderloin district, and that gamblers were resuming business.

The prosecutor declined to discuss the warning except to admit he had received a letter and a telegram saying four Chicago "thugs" were due here by train tomorrow "to get him." A detective was at his side practically all day.

Investigation has failed to verify rumors of pronounced activity in gambling circles, but a number of houses were said to have reopened quietly.

It was even carried to the district attorney in newspaper reports that another police lieutenant was pursuing the grafting tactics which Becker is alleged to have employed.

Becker is in his cell in the death house at Sing Sing prison and is being closely guarded.

William Ferrick, the former member of the Becker police squad who was indicted for perjury yesterday, this afternoon pleaded not guilty and gave $2,500 bond for his appearance. Ferrick was married last night and said he had not learned of the grand jury's action until today.

MRS. LINDLOFF ON STAND.

Testifies in Her Own Behalf—Defense Springs Surprise.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Louise Lindloff, accused of poisoning her son Arthur, took the stand in her own defense today. Before she was called her counsel took the State by surprise by admitting the mineral poison was found in the body of the boy and also in those of the two husbands, the two daughters and the brother-in-law of Mrs. Lindloff, whose deaths the prosecution has attempted to link with that of Arthur Lindloff, as the victims of a chain of poisonings. Experts for the defense were called to testify that the poison found might have been an ingredient of medicines and that the contrary could not be proven.

The accused woman's testimony was in support of this theory. She testified that all members of her family had been afflicted with a skin disease, in the treatment of which the mineral poison she is accused of having administered to her son, is commonly used. She told of having been married to Julius Graunke, her first husband, when she was 17 years old in Treptoll, Germany, and of joining him later in Milwaukee, Wis., where he died, and she married William Lindloff.

West Point, Nov. 1.—The football game which was to have been played here tomorrow between the Army and Holy Cross has been cancelled by order of the Secretary of War.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LINEN AUXILIARY

In the directors' room of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Company yesterday morning the annual meeting of the Linen Auxiliary of the James Walker Memorial Hospital was held. Reports were received from the various officers for the past year and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Henry Bear; secretary, Mrs. T. E. Cooper; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. Caldwell. The report of the president was as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 1st, 1912.

"To the Officers and Members of the Linen Auxiliary of the James Walker Memorial Hospital.

"It is with pleasure that I make a report covering the year's work from last November to the present.

"It is most gratifying to look over our list of membership, and find during this period an increase of over one hundred per cent of interested women, who are joining hands with us in our efforts, so that from an original ten in 1906, we have grown to 112 in 1912.

"We have been able to purchase to the full amount of our membership dues for there is not one single dollar outstanding.

"These linens supplied by us, have been of the usual good quality, and in quantity in proportion of even greater percentage of gain than the growing membership would indicate — this thanks to many kind friends who have assisted us with generous donations, and the strenuous efforts of a few members, when through the kindness of Mr. Solky and the support of the public, they brought to a successful finish a benefit performance at the 'Grand.'

"Now, in spite of these pleasing facts, I would urge efforts as strenuous again as in the past, for the needs of our hospital are still crying needs.

"Their work is noble work and ours almost equally so, in as much as that we add to the comfort of the ailing ones after their ills have been actually cared for.

"So I cannot too strongly plead for greater assistance in our good cause. If a little persuasion can bring other good women to join us, why not each one try that little persuasion, for we should increase in this coming year to at least two hundred members. Should this be, or even if our organization does not reach out quite so far, it is to my mind now of sufficient importance to warrant a constitution with rules of by-laws for general government.

"Should this suggestion not meet with approval, I would further suggest at least a few changes in our present system.

"Our able secretary and treasurer has faithfully performed all duties, but these duties have been arduous enough to demand their division between two separate officers. Minor changes could be arranged at the discretion of the new executive.

"With thanks to all who have so willingly helped to make this year a success, and with special thanks to my officers and committees who have always been so ready to do their share and more, I am, ladies, with due appreciation of your kindness,

"Respectfully submitted,

"MRS. HENRY C. BEAR,

"President."

The secretary reported that during the year donations amounted to $67.50. There are 112 members on the roll for 1912 with all dues paid. The Auxiliary has placed in the hospital linen to the amount of $312.24.

Four big ones at the Bijou today. A quartette of the latest and most costly. In other words, four of the very finest of all film sensations will feature today's bill at the popular Bijou, and will make a glorious climax to what has been the biggest week in the history of the Wilmington people's favorite amusement spot. Not satisfied with offering the usual run of films, the Bijou management, ever liberal and enterprising, decided to present four films today. So devotees of the movies and lovers of the Bijou in particular may expect to see a giant sized and swell show. Of course, the price of admission will not be raised. It never has been and never will be. It is always 5 cents, afternoon or night.

Pathe has a big American comedy, "The Simple Life", as one of today's stars. Society folks purchase a Gypsy camp, to try the simple life, but it fails to be simple, because they are mistaken for thieves and lodged in jail by a thick-headed sheriff.

"Wanted, a Baby," is another big fun film on today and that will cause howls of genuine laughter. A young fellow is left a fortune, providing he has a wife and a child. So he has to hire the outfit on double quick time. The fun that results is boisterous.

"Brave, Braver, Bravest" is still another rattling comedy film, though entirely different from the others. This one shows how admirers of a young Western lassie try to prove themselves heroes, and what happens.

A great dramatic film will be offered in "Death Valley Scotto's Mine", the scenes actually being laid in that locality. It is a thriller from beginning to end, and should not be missed.

Saturday at the Grand.

This is Saturday at the Grand and as usual for the week-end something just a little bit extraordinary has been prepared for all patrons of this delightful little theatre. The song by Mr. Leonard Chick is Chas. K. Harris' big song hit. The illustrations are the most beautiful ever thrown on the canvas according to those who have seen them.

In the pictures there will also be something decidedly interesting and clever, one of them being "Love on Tough Luck Ranch," a Vitagraph of surpassing beauty and abounding in sensational climaxes. An old rancher desires his daughter to marry a little dried-up weezened character and the daughter meets another "her style". How they arrange to circumvent the old man and how they finally succeed, of course, is a story all to the good and should be witnessed to be appreciated.

The other picture today is "The Awakening," a Selig, a story of today with an appealing heart interest. An old inventor suddenly becomes rich. It turns his head, a wife is neglected and finally brought back to happiness. It is a splendid story and one that will be appreciated by Grand patrons.

Remember that the pictures at the Grand are with full orchestral accompaniment and with realistic and beautiful effects. The price is always small and nowhere under the sun is more given for the money than right here at the Grand Theatre.

TRICKS OF HARVESTER TRUST.

Attorney Tells How Competing Company Was Acquired.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—How the property of the Aultman & Miller Company, of Akron, Ohio, was acquired by the International Harvester Company in November, 1905, was related toady by William A. Vincent, an attorney in the government's dissolution suit against the alleged combination.

The witness said he purchased the property at a receivers' sale in July, 1903, for $640,000 and after operating it ostensibly as an independent concern for more than two years formally transferred it to the alleged combination in November. The witness said that after acquiring the plant the name was changed to the Aultman & Miller Buckeye Company.

Mr. Vincent said he undertook to purchase the property as the agent of Cyrus H. McCormick and James H. Deering, but that his proposition was refused by the company. Later the witness said he purchased the property on his own account, although he felt all along that he was morally bound to let the International Harvester Company have it eventually.

"Where did you get the money to buy the property?" inquired Edwin P. Grosvenor, of counsel for the government.

"I borrowed it from the First National Bank of New York," replied the witness.

"Did Mr. McCormick and Mr. Deering assist you in getting the loan?"

"If they did I never knew of it."

"Did you know that the International Harvester Company deposits in that bank?"

"I did not."

"What security did you give?"

"I gave my note and deposited the stock of the new company with the bank."

"Did you confer with anybody when you were managing the company?"

"Yes, I frequently talked with Mr. Cyrus H. McCormick and Mr. James H. Deering."

The witness said that Ira G. Miller, a member of the company, first asked him to negotiate with the International Harvester Company for the sale of the property.

William N. Raey, comptroller of the International Harvester Company, was recalled to the stand to submit reports of the appraisals made of the properties of the consolidated company's merger. The physical value of the plant as reported by the appraisers was as follows:

McCormick Harvesting Machine Company $39,668,157.39.

Deering Harvester Company, $27,237,197.36.

Warder, Bushnell & Glessner Company, $4,637,493.01.

Plano Company, $4,618,667.80.

The figures showed that the profits of the McCormick Harvesting Machine Company for the five years prior to the consolidation aggregated $25,000,000, or 1,000 per cent. on the corporation's capitalization of $2,500,000. The profits of the Deering Harvester Company were shown to be nearly as large during the same period.

The hearing was adjourned until Tuesday, November 12th, when the examination of witnesses will be resumed in Chicago.

EXCITED ADVANCE IN COTTON

All Months Made New High Ground for the Movement—Reactions Followed Early Gains—Losses Recovered.

New York, Nov. 1.—The cotton market had another excited advance during today's earlier trading, with all months making new high ground for the movement. Reactions followed, but were partly recovered and the close was firm, with last prices showing a net gain of from 10 to 20 points for the day. The mraket opened strong at an advance of 18 to 21 points on heavy overnight buying orders, much higher cables than expected, reports of bad weather in the South and bullish private crop estimates. Realizing was heavy enough to cause a reaction of 5 or 6 points right after the cell, but as soon as the Eastern belt forecast for much colder weather and frost was published, following the reports of frosts last night in the Western belt, prices again turned firmer. Commission houses were very heavy buyers on this advance and there was a lot of covering by early sellers, on which prices sold about 19 to 24 points higher. Realizing continued very active and the market eased off some 10 or 12 points from the best during the afternoon. Just before the close some of the prominent spot brokers became very heacy buyers and last prices were within 5 or 6 points of the best.

Spot closed steady. Middling uplands, 11.75; do. gulf, 12.00; sales, 1,397 bales.

Futures closed firm.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Speculation Has Been Active and Prices Have Advanced $5 Per Bale. Market is Shaping Itself Into Bull Affair.

New York, Nov. 1.—Speculation has been active and there are those who believe that the cotton market is shaping itself into an old fashioned bull affair.

The recent advance of $5 a bale was predicted on a big demand for the actual cotton. Manipulation has played very little part in it. It is true that it was assisted for a time by the liquidation of Liverpool straddlers which involved large purchases in New York. But in the main the source of the remarkable firmness which has latterly characterized the market was the keen demand from home and foreign spinners for the actual staple. At the same time some persistent reports from the South were to the effect that the better grades were comparatively scarce and that the basis of spot business has been higher than for some years past.

The October purchases to meet foreign engagements have been very large and the fact or the apparent fact that this crop is turning out to be of not much better quality than the last one has meant that there has been a scramble to meet the higher grades in filling October engagements. But aside from this there has been a world-wide demand for American cotton, despite the talk which was so loud some time ago that by reason of the increased crops this year in Egypt, India, Russia and China the European spinner was not likely to buy American cotton on anything like as large a scale as he did last year. The manner in which the colossal crop of last year of 16,200,000 bales was handled marked a new era in the world's cotton business. The absorptive power of the world's spindles was never illustrated in a more striking way and there are those who believe that large as was the world's consumption of American cotton last year, it will be equalled if not exceeded in the present year. Shorts have covered freely Southern operators, also Wall Street and Western operators and many in Wall Street, have covered on a big scale, and the drift tomorrow is towards the long side, so much so that a big long account is now being accumulated. In such circumstances a temporary reaction, it is argued, need occasion no surprise. Also crop accounts from Texas, Oklahoma, and the region west of the Mississippi generally have been of a favorable nature. It is some of the spot houses have latterly been buying January and they have sold later months. Some other spot houses maintain that the present advance is only temporary and that they have been steady sellers. Waldorf operators have sold to some extent, although this has been mainly, it appears, in order to take profits. Some of that element are believed to have recently taken the bull side even if some others are short. Meantime the receipts continue normous and exports do not make a very good showing as compared with those of last year. Neither do spinners' takings, but it is pointed out that spinners' taking are no infallible indication of the size of the actual consumption. The sentiment here is generally bullish on the idea that the consumption is going to be enormous; that the crop, especially east of the Mississippi, has been over-estimated and that Neill's estimate of 13,970,000 bales is large enough, although some have inclined to the view that the yield would be 15,000,000 bales and Cordell puts it at 14,485,000 bales.

COTTON MOVEMENT

Secretary Hester Issues Weekly New Orleans Statement

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today shows the total movement for October was 1,900,-501, against 2,788,324 last year. The movement from Sept. 1st to Oct. 31st, inclusive, shows receipts at all United States ports 3,331,574, against 3,-342,533 last year. Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to Northern mills and Canada 107,618, against 106,389 last year. Southern mill takings, exclusive of quantity consumed at Southern outports, 502,000, against 446,500 last year and interior stocks in excess of this held at the commencement of the season 404,625, against 494,376 last year. The total movement of the cotton crop brought into sight during the two months ending at the close of October is 4,327,815, against 4,389,-798 last year.

Foreign exports for the two months of the season have been 2,227,290 bales, showing a decrease under last season of 138,586 and an increase over the same period year before last of 234,106. Stocks of the seaboard and the 29 leading Southern interior markets at the close of October were 1,-589,907, against 1,428,597 the same date last year.

CURTAIL STOCK OPERATIONS

Observance of Holidays in Europe and One Today in New York Served To Restrict Business—Money a Factor

New York, Nov. 1.—Observance of religious holidays at all principal European centers, Berlin excepted, and a holiday here tomorrow in honor of the late Vice President Sherman, served to curtail today's operations on the local stock exchange. An additional deterrent was found in call money, which rose to nine per cent, a fraction over yesterday's official quotation, although the close was nearer 6 per cent.

Prospects of an impairment of the clearing house reserves prompted some calling of loans by local banks. In a general way, however, tomorrow's bank statement is expected to work out more favorably than recent forecasts indicated. The high money rates of the last few days resulted in a heavy inflow of money from interior banks, reducing local bank losses to a nominal figure.

Today's business on the exchange was the smallest of any full day in several weeks. Opening prices showed general advances, with a smart gain in Canadian Pacific. This was followed by general declines which obliterated all early gains and then a long period of stagnation. Toward the close, when it became evident that there would be no repetition of yesterday's money squeeze, the market once more grew moderately active, closing with a firm undertone. Bonds were firm with marked improvement in speculative issues. Total sales, par value were $1,440,000. United States government bonds were unchanged. Total sales today 228,900 shares.

troops, in passing through the village of Metassa, ordered the Greek inhabitants to follow them on peril of being massacred by Turkish cavalry.

On refusing, 52 of the Greeks were made prisoners and taken to Servia and lodged in the jail in which were as others of their nationality. Later the governor of the prison told the Greeks the [illegible] and ordered them to leave the building. On emerging the Greeks were surrounded by soldiers and an armed mob which began a massacre. Only four of the Greeks escaped with their lives. When the massacre was over a soldier cut off the noses and hands of the dead men.

Dispatches from Arta say that Turkish atrocities in Albania are continuing and that the inhabitants of Epirus are fleeing to Arta and the mountains.

Daring Feat of Greeks.

Athens, Greece, Nov. 1.—The Turkish battleship Feth-I-Bulend, was sunk during last night in the Gulf of Saloniki by a Greek torpedo boat.

The Greek commander's daring enterprise was carried out under the guns of the Turkish forts without being observed, and the torpedo boat escaped unscathed.

Sinking is Confirmed.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The sinking of the Turkish batleship Feth-I-Bulend by a Greek torpedo boat in the Gulf of Saloniki is confirmed in a dispatch from Saloniki. The warship sank in five minutes. Part of the crew was on shore at the time so that the number of lives lost is not known.

Greeks Occupy Samothrace.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

Noruega in Collision With Unidentified Steamer Off Cape Henry.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 1.—A wireless message received here today from Capt. Hansen, of the Norway-Mexico Gulf Line steamer Noruega, which sailed from this port yesterday with passengers and freight for Vera Cruz, reported that that vessel was in collision with another steamer last night 90 miles below Cape Henry. The message stated that the Noruega was leaking badly. No details of the collision were given nor is the name of the ship with which the Noruega collided known here. A wireless call asking for details was sent Capt. Hansen, but no reply had been received here tonight.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 1.—With the full rigged sailing ship Glenlui in tow, the Norwegian steamer Noruega, of the Norway-Mexico Gulf Line, is creeping up the coast bound to Newport News.

The Noruega and Glenlui were in collision below Hatteras today and both ships, according to reports received in this city, were badly damaged. The Noruega's forward hatch was flooded and it was found necessary to use her pumps. The Glenlui was completely disabled and when it was found that the Noruega was in no danger of sinking, Capt. Hansen of the Norwegian steamer, offered to tow the sailing vessel to Newport News.

It is reported that a revenue cutter has been ordered from Wilmington or Beaufort to proceed to the assistance of the disabled vessels.

CONFERENCES CONTINUED.

Republican Committee Talks Over Successor to Sherman.

New York, Nov. 1.—Conferences over the successor to the late James S. Sherman, as Republican candidate for the Vice Presidency, were continued at National headquarters today. Determination upon a candidate before election is unlikely, notwithstanding the desire of some of the members of the committee that a vote be taken by telegraph.

Additional names of possible nominees continued to be advanced today, among them being the names of Representative Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts; Senator P. J. McCumber, of North Dakota, and Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland.

Troy, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Prof. Charles H. Hiller shot and killed himself this afternoon at his home in Waterford, Saratoga county. Despondency because of ill health prompted the deed. Mr. Hiller, who was about 35 years of age, graduated from Cornell University with the degree of B. A. For several years he occupied the chair of Modern Sciences and Languages in Dalonega College, Georgia, but was compelled to resign because of ill health.

TRACES EXPLOSIONS

Government Reads Letters Showing Course of Dynamite Campaign

Indianapolis, Nov. 1.—Going back to the call of the strike by the Iron Workers' Union against bridge constructors in 1905, the government at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today read letters purporting to show that violence was the beginning of the campaign of explosions later carried on by the McNamaras. All of the 45 men now on trial, the government charges, are implicated by the letters.

The first exhibit was a letter written by Frank Buchanan, then president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers to J. J. McNamara, saying: "If a majority of the executive board approves, a strike should be ordered."

A strike was ordered against a bridge company which had sub-let a contract to a Boston contractor who employed non-union men. In connection with this it was pointed out that an explosion occurred at Millers Falls, Mass., in December, 1905.

Mr. Buchanan's letters were devoted to the union's business in directing the strike. A letter from McNamara to Frank M. Ryan, who succeeded Buchanan as read referred to the conditions in Toledo, Ohio.

McNamara said Buchanan had authorized a member named McClory to do some missionary work in Toledo, and that $150 was appropriated for the purpose. McNamara said McClory employed four men, of whom two were arrested for assault and added that an attorney said if the men pleaded guilty they would be paroled, but that after the men were convicted the Central Labor Union of Toledo adopted resolutions against members of the Board of Public Service and a parole could not be had. McNamara said he had promised the men pay for the time they were in jail.

A letter was read from John T. Butler, Buffalo, vice president of the union, to McNamara about "a suggestion I would not like to put in writing."

The government alleges the suggestion referred to violence.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Business Outlook in All Lines is the Very Best.

New York, Nov. 1.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

So far as the business outlook is concerned conditions of remarkable activity and soundness continue to be shown in most industrial and mercantile lines. One of the most important developments is the energy and courage of the railroads in the purchase of new rolling stock and other supplies, in order to prepare for the expansion of trade. Production in iron and steel is limited only by capacity of mills and time and labor, and yet consumption still outstrips production and prompt delivery is difficult.

The dry goods trade has been steady and prices have shown pronounced firmness. In cottons the jobbing trade is receiving re-orders quite freely and as stocks in first hands are low, the demand accounts for the firmness in values and the readiness with which prices advance with the appearance of ordinary buying. Print cloths and convertibles are slightly higher and some readjustment of prices in bleached goods is anticipated. Ducks are well under contract, percales continue to sell well and ginghams are firm, while tickings and denims are under order for the next few weeks. Exports shipments continue large. There is steady call for all kinds of woolens and worsteds and many requests are being made for immediate delivery of goods not yet due.

The shoe trade is reasonably firm and active. Leather and hides continue very strong, with advancing prices.

So far as the agricultural situation has changed, it is for the better.

From every direction low stocks coupled with restored confidence and revived activity create a demand that tests productive capacity.

Makes an Old-Time Democratic Speech in Wayne County.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 1.—Congressman John M. Faison spoke here last night in the Wayne county court house to an enthusiastic audience. Dr. Faison is a pleasing speaker, and for two hours presented the claims of the Democratic party in a most intelligent and interesting manner, and showed conclusively that it would best serve the interest of the people of the country to elect Woodrow Wilson President, and support him with a Democratic House and Senate. He showed in a most positive way wherein Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, in their past administrations, had failed the people, and could not be trusted again. Dr. Faison also spoke during the morning in Saulston township and his speech at that place and in this city last night did the Democratic cause much good.

SCHOONER WRECKED.

The O'Sprey and Crew of Six Lost at Marshfield, Ore.

Marshfield, Ore., Nov. 1.—The steel schooner O'Sprey and her entire crew of six men were lost at the entrance of the port of Marshfield today when the vessel crashed into the jettys in a heavy sea. Capt. Jacobson attempted to bring the schooner in over the bar where the waves were running mountain high, but the wind failed him and the boat was swept down on the jetty.

Aviator Christofferson, of Portland, Ore., with a newspaper reporter, made two trips out over the wrecked vessel in his biplane, but could do nothing for the shipwreck.

Havana, Nov. 1.—Absolute order prevailed in all parts of the island today in the balloting for President, Vice President and other insular offices. Up to a late hour tonight the result in the Presidential contest was in doubt, but the partisans of both General Menocal, Conservative, and Alfredo Zayas, Liberal, are claiming the victory. With the small returns at hand, however, the chances of election are apparently slightly in favor of General Menocal.

holding the second highest position in the land has been stricken by death and I am sure I express the feeling not only of all of you here, but of our people everywhere, when I say that we were all affected with sorrow and concern for the death of the Vice President and in your name I shall ask the chairman of this meeting to send our most respectfully sympathy to the stricken woman, the wife of the late Vice President—Mrs. Sherman.

"Friends, I have come here to speak for the Progressive cause in this State and for the Progressive ticket from top to bottom, and our cause will not have triumphed completely until we have made it triumph in the Nation and the State and then here in this city of New York, and I ask that the people of this country and of this State judge us not only by our platform of principles, National and State, but by the character of the men whom we have nominated to stand on our platform.

New York, Nov. 1.—The second great Progressive rally in Madison Square Garden within 48 hours, with Theodore Roosevelt as guest of honor, opened tonight with cheering that lasted 20 minutes from the time Oscar S. Straus, candidate for Governor of New York, came on the platform. When order finally was restored and William A. Prendergast had been presented as chairman of the gathering, he urged the crowd not to attempt a record demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt when the latter should appear.

"I ask you, when the Progressive candidate for President appears, to forego your enthusiasm so he may not be kept standing an unnecessary time."

"We have no wish to enter into a competition with the people who occupied this hall last night," said Mr. Prendergast, referring to the demonstration of over an hour for Governor Wilson. He went on:

"The cheer that welcomed Roosevelt in this hall Wednesday night was heard around the world. You only uttered your thoughts; you only explained your feelings. With that feeling there can be no competition, no matter how cleverly staged."

The enthusiasm with which the big gathering opened was stimulated by Mr. Straus himself, who in the effort to quiet the crowd, waved a red bandana. The thousands of spectators stampeded, cheered, whistled, blew tin horns and waved flags. Mr. Straus' speech was devoted almost entirely to an attack upon William Sulzer, Democratic nominee for Governor.

Colonel Roosevelt reached Madison Square at 9:40 o'clock. The cheering that began when he appeared upon the platform continued until 10:05 o'clock, when he began speaking.

The colonel reached the city from Oyster Bay in the early evening and went to the house of Dr. Alexander Lambert, where his wound was dressed. Before he left for the Garden meeting he met several political advisers, including George W. Perkins, and Frank A. Munsey.

MAY CLEAR UP ROBBERY

Police Catch Brother of Man Who Looted Canadian Bank

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 1.—The arrest of H. E. Campbell and Joseph Gavin here today by detectives from Chicago, may lead to a clearing up of the robbery of $300,000 from a bank at Westminster, Canada, September 15th, 1911, the police declare.

Lona Wilson, of Chicago, a friend of "Big" Charley Montague, now being searched for all over the country for alleged complicity in the robbery, tonight identified Campbell, who claims to be an advertising man, as a brother of "Big" Charley himself.

When the home of Campbell was searched pictures of James W. Stacy and Frank West were found. Stacy is under arrest in Chicago charged with assault to kill Lieutenant P. J. Burns, of the Chicago police force.

Burns was assaulted and beaten in a saloon when he attempted to arrest "Big" Charley Montague and others single handed for the robbery.

Campbell and his wife came to this city six weeks ago and Gavin has been rooming at their home. Both men admitted that they knew Stacy and West. They will be held here for further examination.

KILLED BY MOB.

Negro Shot and Fatally Wounded Bessemer, Ala., Detective.

Bessemer, Ala., Nov. 1.—Will Smith, a negro, was killed by a mob here today just after he shot and probably fatally wounded Frank Childress, a city detective.

The detective had been questioning the Smith negro in a pawn shop where the negro was attempting to secure money for a watch. Smith unexpectedly opened fire on the detective with a revolver inflicting two serious wounds.

A mob pursued the negro who tried to escape, and riddled his body with bullets.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 1.—Suit was instituted in the Federal District Court here today by Barnes Gillespie, district attorney, against the Chesapeake & Ohio in which $13,000 in penalties are asked for working trainmen over lawful hours last April. Twenty-six trainmen figure in the case.

A Penny and a Five-Dollar Gold Piece

Bear a distinct family resemblance in size, if not in relation of quality. Consequently if the gold piece is kept in close association with pennies it is likely to share the fate of being taken for one, or rather GIVEN for one, as happened not long ago with a friend of ours.

The lady paid the milkman, as she thought, fifteen cents, but in reality handed him fourteen pennies and the little gold piece, not discovering her error until the following day.
